FAQ

1. What is a Secured Credit Card?

Secured credit cards are those financing products intended for people who want to demonstrate that they are responsible for a loan since an amount is requested as a guarantee to obtain it, to provide security to the institution.

2. How does the Secured Credit Card work?

A guarantee deposit is established by the user/customer. It will remain a backup if the customer does not complete the total payment of the amount spent during the billing period of the credit card. There is no financing plan from the Bank.

3. What is the credit line limit of the Credit Card?

Your credit line is a percentage of your deposit, usually from 50 to 100 percent. In the case of D|Bank, your line of credit would be between 90% and 95% of the escrow deposit.
